

I am submitting the following resume and application as a sincere testament to my interest in the Director of Outreach Ministries position currently open at Concordia. As you will see, I have a strong commitment to Lutheran education and the Great Commission demonstrated by my years of professional and personal experience in both secular and church-sponsored positions.

For twenty-three years, I supported my husband's ministry with the men and women of our Armed Forces. My husband was a LCMS Navy Chaplain and during his military career, we were stationed throughout the United States, coming in contact with a diverse group of people from many walks of life and faith. Ministering in these diverse areas of the country in both our professional and personal lives was a challenging yet extremely rewarding experience.

It is these experiences of teamwork, diversity and leadership that I believe make me the ideal candidate to be a community representative for Concordia University. It would be an honor and a privilege to continue the legacy my husband and I so lovingly embraced and to give a voice for all that the Lutheran Church and its educational system stand.

I look forward to discussing my qualifications with you in person. Thank you for your consideration.

Respectfully,
